DETAILED ACTION

The examiner acknowledges the submission of the amendment filed on 07/16/03.

Upon further review, and in light of a recent decision on recapture, the indicated allowability of the claims is thereby withdrawn. A non-final office action applying the recapture guidelines appears below.

1. Claims 1, 4, 9 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 251 as being an improper recapture of broadened claimed subject matter surrendered in the application for the patent upon which the reissue application is based. Claims 1, 4, 9 and 17 are omitting the limitations of the claim 8 of the original application, which was amended to include these limitations in that claim to overcome the prior art rejection. Specifically, the limitation that the plate and the fin are rectangular in shape is improperly omitted. Claims 4, 9 and 17 are omitting the limitation that the plate having two sides spaced no further apart than overall width of the hard drive. These limitations were added and argued to overcome the prior art rejection and considered to be the surrender limitations. Claim 17 is directed to an entirely different invention claiming a computer storage system, which does not have sufficient support in the specification.

A claim is broader in scope than the original claims if it contains within its scope any conceivable product or process which would have infringed the original patent. A claim is broadened if it is broader in any one respect even though it may be narrower in other respects.
